POPULAR MEDICINE BY DR. HIRSHBERG

Intelligent Observation of Rules of Hygiene Will Decrease Illness.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG.
"How does high blood pressure hurt you?" asked a patient, forty-seven years old, whose blood pressure was only 100—ten points above normal.

"A little of it does no harm," he was told. "When you exercise vigorously or overeat your blood pressure may rise very high." If it remains so permanently, it makes the heart labor more than it should.

One of the best methods in use for the reduction of high blood pressure can be applied by your doctor. It is a true Arsonval electric current. This is a coil with a mechanical interrupter operated on a direct electric current or static machine for making a real high frequency current.

At least once daily, preferably two, intestinal evacuations to remove waste products, which favor high blood pressure, are necessary when you learn that the blood is leaping through your veins like a kangaroo.

Foods To Avoid.
Meats, nuts, cheese, fish and fowl, if eaten more than once a day, may irritate this tension in the heart, kidneys, arteries, and veins. Glutinous and high living, no matter what the food may be, irritates the blood so that an exaggerated zeal sends it spinning along like the water from the fire hose.

When the blood pressure rises much above the normal—which is 100 plus the age; 140 if you are forty—it means that there is too much of some strange irritant flowing in the blood stream, which may be due to extra work by the heart, obstruction of the kidneys, or to poisons in the bowels or some diseased tissue.

Since the overactive man poisons his blood by an excess of waste products, and the indoor, sedentary person by not forcing out the accumulated debris or by overeating, it is plain that a fair average "betwixt and between" overtaxation and inaction must be met.

Electricity Often Employed.
Once the average pressure has risen much above the normal and a thorough cleaning out, a low diet and a graduated course of living falls to keep the hypertension down, treatment by the high frequency electric current should be carried out.

It is the custom to use this special type of electricity every day until the high pressure falls in points to the 100 plus the individual's age. This method relaxes the heart and arteries to a safe point, which permits the pressure to fall just far enough and no further. After this has been accomplished, it may be necessary to keep up this Arsonval electric treatment once or twice a month for some little time afterward.

FROM OBSCURITY TO GLORY ON FIELD

Three Brothers of Director of San Carlo Opera Company Had Unusual Rise.

TWO KILLED IN BATTLE

Last Remaining Warrior of Family Is a Colonel in the Italian Army.

Not all the romances of the war are founded on suddenly amassed fortunes or last-minute marriages. The story of how the Gallo brothers, three of them, over in the Italian army stepped from obscurity as private citizens in a small city to positions of high rank in the army is as thrilling as any that has happened since the war started.

Fortune Gallo, the one brother here in America, who has been actively identified with Red Cross work and who is the director of the San Carlo Grand Opera company, told the story last night at the Belasco Theater, where the opera company is now playing.

"Violent changes of fortune or social status in Europe are not generally the rule, and, as Mr. Gallo explained, are usually taken up by the aristocracy." For three unknown boys to become, one an aviator, one a captain and another a colonel, is a remarkable achievement.

An American Citizen.
"Of course," explained Mr. Gallo, "I am an American citizen, and I have sworn allegiance to this country, but I think perhaps that my pride and interest in affairs over on the other side may be explained when I tell you the story of my three brothers."

Incidentally, Mr. Gallo might have talked about himself, and his own rise, for he has the distinction of being the only director of a grand opera company in this country who can claim any sort of a financial gain as a result of his three years of toils.

The Musical Courier thought enough of the fact to make editorial mention of it. "Several years ago, before the war started," Mr. Gallo both said, "such a thing as having unknown ordinary citizens, who earned but a small living, elevated to the rank of officers in the army was preposterous."

"For some reason or other maybe it is the authority and the gold last night, all of the positions of rank in the army are taken up by the titled classes. There is literally nothing left in the army and navy for the ordinary citizen."

Two Were Killed.
"So when I think sometimes of my brother who is a colonel, or my other brother, who was a captain, or of my brother, an aviator, who was killed in action after having received three medals for bravery—I cannot quite adjust myself."

"Giovanni and my brother who was a captain and the gold last night, all of the positions of rank in the army are taken up by the titled classes. There is literally nothing left in the army and navy for the ordinary citizen."

When the war started, the Gallo brothers enlisted, and Fortune, in America, did all he could in the Red Cross work for the aid of the land of his fathers. While he worked, the other boys were winning laurels on the other.

Over $10,000 this season is Mr. Gallo's record of contributions to the Red Cross.

He is "lending" two grand opera stars to the performance at the Belasco tomorrow afternoon when a military benefit will be given by the United Service Women's Branch of the American Red Cross.

TEACHERS IN RED CROSS

Dr. Van Schaick Commends Forming of First Aid Classes.

Impetus was given the plan of public school teachers to organize a Red Cross first aid class when Dr. John Van Schaick, Jr., president of the Board of Education, today declared he heartily favored the proposal.

"First aid work," declared Dr. Van Schaick, "should be part of a teacher's equipment, not only as a teacher, but as a citizen."

Two classes in first aid work formed by the Teachers' Club at Central High School yesterday are open to all white teachers. First instructions probably will be given next week at the Mason House.

The classes will include: Misses J. M. Seale, M. G. Silvester, M. S. Pierce, T. H. Schoenborn, A. G. Alden, E. G. Hart, E. Myrth, E. M. Alwine, M. H. Craig, M. H. Pray, M. B. Craus, M. A. Robb, M. V. Griffith, M. Stockard, D. Wall, H. Gordon, N. Allen, N. Moore, M. Donnan, A. Dufour, M. Earnest, and S. Clokey.

SCOUTS SAVING FOR CAMP

Hundreds Looking Forward to Outing When Schools Close.

Hundreds of Boy Scouts in Washington are saving money for their outing at Camp Archibald Butt, Chesapeake Bay, Maryland, this summer. The Boy Scouts are counting the days to school vacation when the camp will be opened in charge of J. W. Patton, Deputy Scout Commissioner. The boys will pay $4 a week.

Among those backing the camp are: Arthur C. Moses, Raymond W. Pullman, the Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding, Dr. Harry Kaufman, P. J. Wagner, W. H. Walker, H. H. Grogan, G. H. Ashley, Milton Allen, Vernon Bailey, E. P. Bicknell, Henry P. Blair, Leo C. Brooks, William L. Brown, C. J. Bell, P. P. Claxton, Paul Delaney, J. E. Hander, Le Roy Herron and W. T. Gallier.

SHOWS GERMAN SCENES

Elmendorf Takes Audience Through Romantic Rhine Land.

In one of the most interesting travelogues he has given here recently, Dwight Elmendorf yesterday afternoon, at the National, conducted his audience through the old towns of Germany. First the Rhine of history, legend and romance, was traversed throughout its most interesting part.

In Bonn, the home of Beethoven was shown, and at Weimar the homes and haunts of Goethe and Schiller were pictured. Eisenach, Rothenburg and Nuremberg were visited in turn, and places of interest in connection with the lives and work of Liszt, Bach, Wagner, and Martin Luther were pointed out. The lecturer, at intervals, gave piano selections from the German masters in connection with the pictures.

A number of motion views of scenes on the Rhine and in Nuremberg and Bonn were given.

EGG SANDWICH FOR NICKEL

As Hens Resume Production, Lunch Rooms Scale Prices.

One egg sandwich, sunny side up; five cents! The music of the cash register ringing up sales of egg sandwiches is dearer these days to the frequenter of lunch rooms than it has been for many moons. But not so dear the egg sandwich.

When hens secretly formed a trust and boosted the price of eggs to about 50 cents a dozen, lunch rooms no longer sold an egg sandwich at the traditional price of 5 cents. Two for 15 was the usual quotation.

Now, since the price of eggs has dropped to about 25 cents a dozen wholesale, there is no longer any excuse for keeping the price at "two for 15."

ADVISES WOMAN ON DRESS.

Man and woman go "fifty-fifty" in their make-up, according to Dr. James L. Gordon, of the First Congregational Church, who last night in a lecture declared "man is 50 per cent woman and woman is 50 per cent man." The lecture answered "Question Box" notes.

Dr. Gordon gave some advice to woman about dress. "Avoid extremes in fashion," he said.

ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGN IN CAPITAL PLANNED

Health Department Will Open Spring Drive on Winter Quarters of Pest.

WILL EDUCATE THE PUBLIC

Believed Concerted Crusade Now Will Lessen Menace During Summer.

Now is the time for all flippant flies furtively to flee to their fastnesses. The District Board of Health has announced it will start a spring drive on the winter quarters of the obnoxious summer pest.

Assistant Health Officer Dr. John L. Norris, who is conducting the crusade, has detailed a man to look for the hibernating quarters of the fly, and deal him a blow before he emerges for the summer.

Plan Spring Campaign.

The fly, says Dr. Norris, for many years was considered a harbinger of spring. But now he is regarded solely as a carrier of disease germs.

"When one considers," said Dr. Norris, "that a vast that fattens one lone fly against the wall causes in reality the potential death of billions of flies, the efforts of the pursuer should be increased till the elimination of the insect is achieved."

The District Health Department is endeavoring to awaken the interest of Capital citizens to the great potentialities of a spring campaign directed against the pest. The authorities believe a concerted crusade during the next two months will do much toward lessening the fly menace during the summer months.

Keeping Flies From the Ill.
"I want to urge the imperative need of keeping flies away from the vicinity of persons who are ill," said Dr. Norris. "Not only is the insect liable to convey germs that may aggravate the patient's condition, but it is likely to carry away bacteria that will spread the disease."

Dr. Norris declared the department is planning an educational campaign directed to the dangers of the housefly. Stringent enforcement of regulations concerning screening food offered for sale will be demanded by the department.

PLEASE IN "GIOCONDA"

San Carlo Singers Win Plaudits in Trying Roles.

"La Gioconda" was sung by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company at the Belasco last night before an appreciative audience. Every member of the cast was in excellent voice, and the performance of this seldom heard opera was in every way satisfactory.

Mary Kaestner sang the title role, and repeated the success she had won the previous evening in "Cavalleria." Manuel Salazar also was acclaimed again for his singing of the part of Enzo. Both these singers, by their artistic and consistent renditions of different roles, have won a place in the hearts of Washington music lovers.

Maddalena Carreno, as Laura; Stella Demette, as La Cieca; Pietro de Biasi, as Alvise; and G. Battistini, as Barnaba, sang the other roles well. Cavalier Carlo Peroni's skillful direction was also noted.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning post, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single scale and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will end all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better—Advt.
